

Jessica Carlsson is Head of Research at Competence Centre for Transcultural Psychiatry (CTP) in Copenhagen, Denmark and Associated Professor at the University of Copenhagen. She holds a PhD in treatment outcome of trauma-affected refugees. Her primary research areas are clinical research in trauma-affected refugees and research in transcultural psychiatry. She has years of experience in designing and conducting randomised clinical trials on treatment outcomes and is one of the main contributors to the development of the Treatment and Research Integrated Model (TRIM) at CTP. She has published a large number of scientific papers related to her areas of research and has built up rapidly growing and dynamic research group at CTP.